

The divine spine straightening with Christa Ohly

There are causes of mental and emotional conflicts that show up in the body as blockages, emotional problems, and even as structural disorder of the spine and bones. According to the individual situation, all levels can be corrected and balanced with either one of the techniques or a combination of the possible methods below:

The divine spine straightening - healing on all levels

Spine and body straightening, pelvic obliquity correction with leg length adjustment and spinal column with straightening of the shoulder blades, all problems of the spine and musculoskeletal system such as crooked pelvis, unequal legs, unbalanced shoulders, slate neck, axial rotations and arched lumbar.

Meridian Energy Technique (MET)

MET includes a gentle tapping on certain meridian points that resolves energy blockages. It finds application in fears and phobias of all kinds, including Attention Deficit Disorder (ADHS), depression, resignation, jealousy, stress, feelings of guilt, grief, trauma, anger, eating disorders, weight problems, inhibitions, addictions, sleep, allergies, asthma, joint and limb pain, headaches and migraines.

Craniosacral Balancing

This is ideally suited to successfully reduce the symptoms of stress. Through gentle touch and soothing techniques, the immune system and the forces of the autonomic and central nervous systems are activated. Craniosacral Balancing helps assist with head and back pain, migraine, vision and TMJ problems, stress and its sequelae, and insomnia.

Aura - Chakra and Energy Work.

Our subtle field (aura) is a highly sensitive information and perception system. Each of the chakras controls its associated organ functions and acts simultaneously on an emotional, mental and spiritual level. Therefore, our well-being depends on whether these chakras are cleansed of negative, blocking embossing and each chakra is balanced.

About Christa

Christa started to study 28 years ago the Universal Healing Taoist techniques from Master Mantak Chia after a period of long sickness. Her healing takes place by channeling higher frequencies from the void as she uses her body as an open channel connecting with these higher frequencies to the imbalances in the client's body. Few years after she studied Psychotherapy, Advanced Kinesiology, Meridian Energy Technique, Craniosacral Balancing and also Chakra and Aura Balancing and Reiki. When she experienced working with clients, she realized that she had power to heal people not only by toughing. She went to different healers to learn more about it.
